Uttarakhand Bamboo & Fiber
Development Board

presents Bamboo Catalogue

Dear Buyers,

Uttarakhand Bamboo and Fiber Development Board (UBFDB) is delighted to launch its product catalogue. We showcase ECOFRIENDLY collection of handcrafted BAMBOO furniture and lifestyle products designed to add colour and a folksy touch to modern, urbane homes.

Uttarakhand Bamboo and Fiber Development Board, was established with the objectives of creating livelihood opportunities with the help of bamboo and natural fiber species in the rural areas of Uttarakhand state. Bamboo has age old relations with the Uttarakhand state. Where the common Lathi bamboo (Dendrocalamus strictus) is prevalent in the lower reaches of the state, the ringal, the reed like small bamboo variety, is abundantly present in the higher mountain areas. At the same time, a large amount of bamboo used to be felled and auctioned in Lansdowne area of the state. The nearby Najibabad Bamboo Market was developed due to the same reason only. In due course of time the widely affected bamboos due to gregarious flowering led to decrease in production, and the utilization of bamboos became limited to few handicrafts and daily utility items. Notwithstanding, this would be appropriate to mention here that more than ten thousand artisans earn their livelihood by making bamboo and ringal products amidst 1,39,000 ha. span of the species in the state.

Bamboo based products in last 20 years, have fast earned a place in the global scenario. The bamboo based global market in 2004 alone was estimated to be equal to Rs. 50,000 Crores growing at the rate of 20–30% per annum. The reason behind this can be attributed to the decline in timber production and its growing demand. Now, with the development of new techniques, bamboo can be easily reconstituted into the wood similar to timber which is being used to make furniture, doors, window panes, flooring tiles & wall panels, roofing sheets, ply-board etc. Commonly, bamboo is known to be a material utilized in paper making. But today it is being used for making medicine, tea, beverages, charcoal, vinegar, textiles, processed shoots, chiks and blinds, incense sticks etc. Apart from these there are a number of handicraft items that possess an important place in the whole bamboo based industry. In addition to its enormous economical importance, bamboo is more known for its ecological importance.

There are a number of natural fiber species found in Uttarakhand that were being utilized by the rural population for ages. These can be utilized to make not only wearable textiles but also in a number of handicrafts and daily utility items.

Amidst the enormous possibilities, bamboo and fiber can be utilized to provide livelihood opportunities in rural areas of a state which had been newly formed with difficult terrains having limited employment opportunities. This background formed the basis of constitution of Uttarakhand Bamboo & Fiber Development Board. Since its inception, the board has been intensively working in the fields of resource development, awareness generation, trainings, product development, research, bamboo house construction, market linkages etc. The basis of different activities of the board are different projects mainly sanctioned by State and Central Government Departments. UBFDB is heading forward to fulfill its goals and objectives with the implantation of these projects only.

In financial year 2009-10 among the main achievements of the board various activities conducted during the International Year of Natural Fibers 2009 that prominently included conduction of a state and a national level workshops. At the same time the board also participated in natural fiber based exhibition in New Delhi under the aegis of United Nations and participated in an exhibition on natural fibers in annual handicrafts fair organized by Dastkari Haat Samiti at Dilli Haat, New Delhi. Under the activity of bamboo house construction new projects at 9 different places were conducted along with organization of an international level workshop on bamboo housing. For development of bamboo resources 18 number of centralized nurseries were established in the state and mass scale plantation over 2174.5 ha. area was carried out with the help of forest department, Uttarakhand. A total of 1058 artisans, farmers and groups members were trained in subjects like Resource Development, Handicraft product development and entrepreneurship development. For trainings and production 8 different common facility centers are being utilized. In the efforts made to provide a suitable market to the products of the groups under a sustainable marketing model, orders worth approximately Rs. 10.00 lakh were obtained and being sold. For marketing of products the marketing team and group members participated in 12 different level craft fairs / exhibitions across the country.
